

Old Collyerians Association

Terms of Use

These terms of use apply to the website of the Old Collyerians Association (“OCA”)

- The OCA Website is provided by the OCA to promote the association and provide information to current and prospective members.
- The OCA Website provides information about the OCA and its activities along with other items that may be of interest.
- We take all reasonable care to ensure that the materials and information on the OCA Website are accurate and complete. However they are provided for general information purposes only and all liability is excluded in respect of any loss or damage which may arise in connection with the use of or reliance upon any materials and information appearing on the OCA Website.
- Unless otherwise stated, copyright in the pages forming the OCA Website belongs to the OCA.
- Access and use of the OCA Website is solely for the users own personal purposes. Any content of the OCA Website must not be used for any commercial or illegal purpose.
- Users of the OCA Website are prohibited from transmitting to the OCA Website any unlawful, threatening, defamatory, obscene, pornographic or other material that would violate any law.
- Where the OCA website provides links to other websites, these are provided for convenience only and do not imply affiliation with or endorsement by the OCA.
- Selecting any of these links will direct you to a website that is not related in any way to the OCA and the OCA takes no responsibility for the content contained on any other website.
- Before supplying any personal information to any other website, the OCA recommends you check that website’s privacy policy. The OCA does not accept responsibility for the protection of any personal information or data supplied to other websites.
- Please note that we do not use “cookies” on our website.

For further information please contact: mandscollins@talktalk.net